"Hey! I just got a copy of this really neat program! Do you want a copy?"

How many times have we heard this? How many times (to our own shame) have we said "yes"?

As responsible people we need to be aware of our actions and their effects on others. The wanton passing around of commercial software does nothing except discourage the authors & vendors from continuing to support the market. Indeed, where is the market when you can get the product from your buddy across town? When authors no longer write new software because there is nothing to be gained from it, who will write the new software? Your buddy on the other side of town?

In perpetual support of the software authors and vendors of the Coco community, GLENSIDE strongly encourages its members as well as the rest of the community, to show YOUR support of those vendors and the authors by purchasing the software that you want, whether it is commercially available or if it is shareware and avoid piracy. Piracy only hurts everyone in the end.

Welcome!

Welcome to the event that we're affectionally calling the "First Annual Last CoCoFest", and thank you for your continued support and interest!

Gatherings of CoCo, OS9, and now OSk enthusiasts in the Chicagoland area have been something of a tradition for some years now. Many changes have occurred in the last few years, but some things remain constant...not the least of which is our shared loyalty to computers and/or operating systems that lie outside the "mainstream". And, although some members of our Community have left our ranks to swim with the tide, and some have chosen the best of both worlds (by using a second computer), one immutable fact remains: few computers have ever generated the sense of kinship among its users as has the CoCo. That feeling of community is perhaps the major reason that has drawn us all here for this event (and is, in fact, a major reason that this event was organized).

As you enjoy the exhibits, seminars and conversation with others this weekend, take extra notice of those who you meet. Many showgoers have traveled from other states, countries, and continents to join with you. Many, such as the members of the Glenside CoCo Club, have put in time and effort for no more reward than the chance to spend some time with you. The vendors who have joined us all look forward to meeting you, and have graciously donated hundreds of dollars in doorprizes for lucky showgoers to enjoy. Some of our seminar leaders have come here with the sole purpose of sharing their knowledge, and enjoying your company. All of those who have joined with you and I for this weekend have at least one thing in common with you...they care about our Community and enjoy the chance to meet with its members.

Few, if any, other computer groups have ever grown as close as we have. Take heart in knowing that those who are here are here because they do care. And, having that knowledge, we ask that you wring every possible bit of enjoyment out of this weekend, and take its memories forward!

Seminars

Sunday, May 31

11:00 AM- *Taking the MM/1 into the Future
Paul Ward (IMS)

IMS President Ward will discuss the present and future of the MM/1 and OS9-68000, and will entertain your questions.

12:00 PM- *Exploring the 6309 Enhanced Processor
Chris Burke (Burke & Burke)

In this seminar, Chris Burke (professional programmer and designer of the CoCo-XT hard disk interface) describes the new features found in the Hitachi HD63B09E, (an enhanced version of the CoCo-3's microprocessor) with new registers, new instructions, and a new hi-speed operating mode. Chris will show how you can speed up your assembly language programs by 20% or more with the HD63B09E, and will discuss Burke & Burke's speed-boosting OS9 operating system modifications.

1:00 PM- *Game Programming Technique & Theory
Glen Dahlgren (Sundog Systems)

Noted game author Glen Dahlgren will be talking about entertainment software from the conception of the idea to final production. Discussion will cover genres, tools, aspects of the program (sound graphics etc.), management & production, and marketing along with some programming tips.

2:00 PM- *Hardware Forum
Marty Goodman

CoCo legend Goodman will answer your questions on CoCo hardware (and software as it relates to hardware) in this open-forum seminar.

Seminars

Saturday, May 30

11:00 AM- OS-9 Graphics Programming John Strong (Strongware)

John, author of the new Graphic Tools set will share his insights on graphic programming under OS9 and OSk.

12:00 PM- CoCo Graphics Programming Jeff Steidl (author of GrafExpress 2.0)

In this open-forum format, Jeff will share tips on programming graphics and sound on the CoCo, and will answer your questions on the new GrafExpress programming environment.

1:00 PM- The Future Of CD-I and OSk Frank Hogg (FHL)

Longtime OS9 vendor Frank Hogg will recap his recent article in 68XXX Machines on the subject of Compact-Disk-Interactive operation, as it applies to OS9-68000. He will also entertain questions on this emerging technology.

2:00 PM- Hardware Forum Marty Goodman

CoCo legend Marty Goodman will answer your questions on CoCo hardware (and software as it relates to hardware) in this open-forum seminar.

3:00 PM- 12 Years of the CoCo- a Walk Thru History Steve Bjork

Prolific programmer and CoCo pioneer Bjork will present a recap of the last dozen years of CoCoing, with amusing anecdotes and CoCo nostalgia.

5:00 PM- OS-9 Open Forum Kevin Darling

The acknowledged OS9 Guru will share and explore with you in this freeform, open-ended OS9/OSk learnathon!

Information

Show Hours

Sat. May 30

Exhibition area ..... 10 AM-5 PM
Seminar area ..... 11 AM-8 PM

Sun. May 31

Exhibition area ..... 10 AM-4 PM
Seminar area ..... 11 AM-3 PM

Door Prize Drawings

Drawings for door prizes will be held every hour that the exhibition area is open, on the half-hour. You need not be present at the time of drawing to win, but must be present at the following hour's drawing in order to claim your prize if you were not present when your name was originally drawn. Commencing with the second drawing each day of the show, the winner's name from the previous hour's drawing will be announced. If the winner from the previous drawing was not present at the time their name was drawn, or is not present at that time, then names will be drawn until a winner who is present can be found. For the final drawing, at 3:30 PM Sunday, names will be drawn until a winner for that drawing is found.

Hospitality Suite

Free coffee will be available during show hours at the Glenside CoCo Club hospitality suite, across from the Seminar area.

Souvenir T-Shirts

T-shirts commemorating the Chicago CoCoFest are available at the Cook County CoCo Club booth. Quantities are limited.

Exhibitors

ACBBS

Stop by and meet the creators of ACBBS, a full-featured bulletin board system for OS-9 lv. 2.

Adventure Survivors

AS is a family-run club for CoCo adventure game players. Annual member ship, and back-issues of the Club Newsletter are available at the show for a modest fee. 23 of the of the best CoCo adventures are reviewed (with maps and solutions) in back issues. Stop by their booth to get a free Introductory Newsletter and worksheets.

Also available at the AS booth will be the full line of Eversoft products, the Powerstones of Ard series, and others.

BARSoft

BARSoft will be offering their complete line of quality software with such titles as KBCom, UltiMusE, and ADOS just to name a few. They will also offer many hardware items no longer available for the Color Computer. Glenside Color Computer Club members receive 20% off any software purchase!

Burke & Burke

Stop by the Burke & Burke booth and see the new PowerBoost kit, a low-cost combination of hardware and software that makes CoCo-3 OS9 visibly faster.

You can also pick up Chris Burke's new book, Inside the 6309, which describes the instruction set, internal registers, and programming tricks of the Hitachi HD63B09E - a low-power, high-performance, fully-compatible replacement microprocessor. The processor itself is also available at the Burke & Burke booth. Also, don't miss Chris Burke's seminar, "Exploring the 6309 Enhanced High-Speed Processor".

B&B will also be featuring their full line of OS9 hardware and software, including the CoCo-XT hard disk interface.
