EXPLORE OUR SOLAR SYSTEM THROUGH 150 CAPTIVATING SCENES

Join Mickey and Pluto on a journey through our solar system, in their quest to help some friendly aliens recover lost pieces of a valuable memory crystal.

Walt Disney Personal Computer Software by Sierra captures your child's imagination while developing skills and knowledge. Stunning graphics, delightful characters, and challenging activities motivate your child to grasp the concepts involved.

■ MAPPING SKILLS

To avoid getting lost while exploring our vast Solar System, players will need to map their progress, taking note of landmarks along the way.

■ PLANETARY SCIENCE

Your child will learn all about our Solar System: the name of each planet, its relative size and position in the Solar System, surface temperatures, atmospheric and planet composition and much more which include:

- The moons which revolve around each planet.
- The concept of planet rotation and revolution around the sun.
- The concept of gravity.

■ PROBLEM SOLVING

To operate the alien spaceship, your child must figure out which buttons and levers control which functions. He or she will also need to follow the clues given by the spaceship's computer to learn which planet to visit next.

Friendly aliens from another galaxy have sent a computer-controlled ship to Earth. They ask that you and Mickey and Pluto help them find the nine pieces of a valuable crystal that was stolen from them, shattered, then hidden on each of the nine planets in Earth's solar system.

Mickey and Pluto will need your assistance to figure out how to pilot the alien spaceship. Talk to the on-board computer to discover the order in which you must visit the planets in your treasure hunt. Then decipher the coded map of the solar system to figure out how to get there.

From our own Earth you'll visit each of the other eight planets. You'll stand on the scorched and rugged surface of Mercury, where temperatures can go up to 800° F.

You'll explore Mars, nicknamed the "red" planet because of its color, which is caused by large amounts of iron minerals in the ground.

You'll visit Jupiter, the largest planet in our Solar System, almost 1,400 times the size of Earth. You'll also visit Saturn, with its thousands of rings of ice and rock.

Of course, Pluto most wants to visit the planet he is named after. Pluto has the largest rotation of any of the nine planets averaging over 3 1/2 billion miles from the Sun!

When you complete your quest, you can bask in the knowledge of a job well done, then start the game all over again. The puzzles change each time you play Mickey's Space Adventure, so you can play it over and over and not play the same game twice.

"Mickey's Space Adventure...enchants the user throughout the 150-screen journey with its dazzling graphics and challenges the player with intriguing puzzles...rewarding as both an entertainment and an educational package."
